HOLLYWOOD STARS: NO ON 6

Burt Lancaster, Tomlin Star at
NO ON 6
Benefit

Hollywood stars came out in force on Friday, Oct. 20, as Concerned Voters of California presented a spectacular banquet featuring motion picture and television stars. The $100-a-plate event, at the Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills, was a sell-out at 1,350 (with some tickets being scalped in the lobby for more than $100). It raised $100,000 to purchase additional TV and radio time for CVC spots promoting NO ON 6.

"It is insane," actor-MC Burt Lancaster asserted to the throng, "to consider a law that simply is a judgment on acts we all perform."

Lancaster was seconded by comedienne Lily Tomlin, introduced by actor John Travolta ("Saturday Night Fever"). Tomlin commented on Briggs' assertion that it was the "degenerate Hollywood crowd" that supported NO ON 6. She said, "Oh, bless his heart. All my family members are fundamentalists, so I can really relate to Senator Briggs. I just feel that he is terribly ignorant about human rights, human dignity, justice, equality, and civil liberties — and other minor details."

Earlier reports in the Los Angeles Times that Hollywood was staying away from the controversial Proposition 6 were proved wrong. Gawkers at the Beverly Hills affairs were amazed to find Hollywood greats in the crowd, including Bette Davis, Bernadette Peters, Joanne Woodward, Robert Culp, Marissa Berenson, Polly Bergen, Cher Bono Allman, Jack Albertson, Raquel Welch, Elizabeth Montgomery, Jane Fonda, Karen Black, Brenda Vaccaro, and many more.

Enjoying the evening immensely was Rona Barrett, Hollywood columnist. She had promoted the event on her national TV segment on the TODAY show earlier.

Lancaster told the Hilton Hotel crowd, "If you loved the Black List, you will love Proposition 6." This referral was to the Black List of the 1950's when Hollywood personalities who were considered "leftist" were placed on lists and denied employment while Senator Joseph McCarthy talked about the "Hollywood Communists" on the floor of Congress.

Concerned Voters is currently running a television spot in inland rural areas where the YES vote appears strong. It is on TV in Sacramento, Los Angeles, San Diego, and in Orange County.

The CVC spot, financed by such events as the Beverly Hills affair, depicts an older woman sitting before a blackboard and with a world globe on her desk. She states that she has been a school teacher for many years and has always spoken out for the rights of individuals to enjoy their own privacy. She Hollywood is beginning to produce many who are being upfront about their opposition to Proposition 6. These include Jack Albertson, Alan Alda, Bea Arthur, Warren Beatty, Candice Bergen, Carol Burnett, Jane Fonda, Lee Grant, Valerie Harper, Rod McKuen, Shirley MacLaine, Jaye P. Morgan, Martha Raye, Neil Simon, Brenda Vaccaro, Nancy Walker and columnist Abigail van Buren.

November 4 Rally

Bishop Myers to Denounce 6 in Civic Center

BACABI has appealed to Bay Area Lesbians and Gay men to bring their straight friends to the group's Rally for Human Justice on Saturday, Nov. 4, at the San Francisco Civic Center. Three days later — Nov. 7 — California will vote on the anti-Gay Briggs Initiative, Proposition 6.

California Episcopal Bishop C. Kilmer Myers — who has told the churches that Prop. 6 would unleash a witchhunt "and we ignore it at our peril" — will address a crowd expected to top 10,000. Other non-Gay headliners will include California Assembly Speaker Leo McCarthy and Libertarian gubernatorial candidate Ed Clark. A variety of entertainers is also being lined up.

BACABI states in its announcement of the 12:30 to 3:30 rally: "It is absolutely imperative that beside every Gay man and Lesbian there are two straight friends standing in proud defiance of Briggs and his politics of hatred." A result of such visible non-Gay presence could be thousands of undecided votes tilted to NO ON 6, the group believes.

Printed invitations for Nov. 4 intended for non-Gay co-workers, neighbors and family are now available at BACABI's office at 2049 Market St.

Socialist Workers and Libertarians have joined the local Republican and Democratic parties in endorsing the event. On stage — perhaps at different times — will be local GOP vice chair Mike Henderson and his opponent in the city's hottest partisan election, Democratic Assemblyman Willie Brown.

Other speakers will represent the American Civil Liberties Union, Mexican-Americans, American Indians, the National Education Association, and labor organizations.

NO ON “U” (RENT CONTROL)

LET US BE AWARE WHAT RENT CONTROL WILL DO TO OUR CITY

- A. Reduce the amount of available housing by forcing owners into condominium conversion.
- B. Reduce owners incentives to keep up their buildings as seen in New York City and Detroit.
- C. Reduce the employment and jobs in San Francisco. Measure “U” applies the same rent control formula to highrise office buildings as to residential units. Thus because of the problems this ordinance would create, jobs and business will be driven from San Francisco.
- D. Do you remember the slums in the Upper Market-Haight-Western Addition a few years ago?? If ballot measure “U” had been in effect, the area would still be slums. Let’s not let urban blight return to San Francisco. Let’s preserve our cherished Victorians and keep San Francisco the most beautiful city in the world.

Prop. 7 — The OTHER Gay Issue

Death for Oral & Anal Sex

A person found to be guilty of murder could be denied life imprisonment with the possibility of parole if that person committed or attempted to commit an oral or anal sex act with the victim. This is a condition specified in Proposition 7, the Death Penalty measure on the November ballot.

Senator John Briggs authored Proposition 6, the anti-Gay teachers initiative, and added a section in his Proposition 7 which also spells out acts commonly performed by homosexuals.

Under Prop. 7, Section 190.2 of the State Penal Code, sub-section 17, would call for the execution of a murderer or life imprisonment without parole if the murder "was committed while the defendant was engaged in or was an accomplice in the commission or attempted commission of, or the immediate flight after committing or attempting to commit the following felonies: (iv) Sodomy in violation of Section 286, (vi) oral copulation in violation of Section 288a."

Public opinion polls indicate that the public will overwhelmingly approve of Prop. 7 on the November ballot. There has been only a minor concentration on either support of 7 or an effort to defeat it. One group that is working against 7, as well as Prop. 6, is Lesbian Schoolworkers, Box 23984, Oakland, CA 94623... GM Grubbs reaffirmed the "neutral" editorial position of Orange County's largest newspaper, published in Santa Ana.

The Register editorial staff had affirmed that the harassment of teachers could occur with-or-without Prop. 6. It stated that the real issue was the libertarian position of the newspaper that the public should be considering a variety of private schools rather than tax-supported public schools.

A political reporter on the Register staff told B.A.R. that he thought the newspaper was moving toward another editorial which would say NO ON 6, but Grubb denied this.

The Register has consistently been critical of John Briggs, who represents the area in the State Senate. It had supported the passage of Assemblyman Willie Brown's private, consensual sex bill.

A B.A.R. survey also revealed that the Sacramento Union, the Oakland Tribune, and the Bay Area Latino publication, El Mundo, are now opposed to 6. They join the Sacramento Bee, San Diego Union, Los Angeles Times and both San Francisco dailies.

A lengthy Union editorial concluded, "Our present laws do the job of protecting our children, and we do not need new, discriminatory legislation that would divert school district funds from meeting educational requirements."

Orange County Register 'Neutral'

"We are hostile to Proposition 6 but we will stay with our position of abstaining," the editorial editor of the Santa Ana Register has told B.A.R. Ken

POLICE HAVE BETTER THINGS TO DO.

If Proposition 5 becomes law, police would be diverted from serious crime and public protection to answer complaints and enforce a nuisance law. Peace officers would be spending their time being (1) music critics, (2) building inspectors, (3) judges of amateur standing — the list goes on.

We're serious.

(1) Prop. 5 makes smoking illegal at indoor jazz concerts, but legal in the same place during a rock concert. (Police must decide if the band is playing rock, jazz, popular music — or what.) [Sec. 25933(r)]

(2) Prop. 5 makes smoking unlawful in most places of business, except in one-person private offices or a lounge with smoke-proof walls. (Who will decide if partitions are smoke-proof, how many persons occupy a private office and such?) [Sec. 25933(g,i,j)]

(3) Prop. 5 prohibits smoking at all indoor amateur events and all professional performances except boxing, wrestling and roller derbies. (A cop would have to verify the amateur or professional status of the performers.) [Sec. 25993(r)]

Proposition 5 has other time-consuming jobs to occupy police officers' time. They would be called on to arrest shopowners who smoke in their own stores — reporters who smoke while they type — bowlers who smoke while they bowl. The list is endless!

Our police have plenty of necessary work to do. They don't need another foolish law to enforce!

Viewpoint

From Spectacle to Spectre

Once again we approach the night of the annual Polk Street Halloween promenade — increasingly viewed as the Polk Street Halloween dans macabre.

The evening of Gay high jinks — color, costume, camp has shifted to an edgy night infiltrated with low-brow hooliganism. Menacing flotsam and jetsam broiling in the Gay wake. Troublemakers itching for the chance to turn a frolic into a fracas.

The Gay merchants who profit from the huge influx of revelers are as much responsible for keeping the peace as those Gays on the streets. Hostile drunks and an arsenal of beer bottles do not bubble out of some witch's cauldron.

A week to the hour of the Halloween highs, the votes on Proposition 6 will be reaching their final tally. Wouldn't it be a wonderful twist if everyone went along Polk dressed as a "No on 6" button — where nobody won a prize, nobody got arrested, nobody frightened the horses — and we won the election on November 7.

If Halloween is traditionally "our night," why not turn it to our advantage and this year turn Polk Street into one massive precinct walk. The voters will be there — what an opportunity to do a little electioneering and educating.

LAST PITCH ON POLLS

* We can all delight in the latest poll findings, which show that Proposition 6 will lose. Of particular interest is the latest Field poll. Mervyn Field is finally telling the truth! At least his latest poll story included a breakdown — something which last month's story did not. Another difference between his two polls is the fact that the latest story did not include the number of people polled. The total polled is pure arithmetic and is really insignificant. The number of people polled is always about the same. It's the WAY the poll is taken that is important.

There is always a danger of complacency. The latest polls will, hopefully, convince more people that it is "safe" to be involved in the civil rights struggle. Regardless of the election outcome, there will be a continuing need for education. We learned the hard way how important this is. I urge my sisters and brothers to become involved. If you are registered, be sure to vote.

Remember. GAY refers to BOTH women and men.

Herbert S. Levy
San Francisco

MISSION HIGH RALLY

* I never doubted the power of a united Gay community, but I doubted that the Gay community would unite. I no longer have this doubt.

I was at the Mission High School rally against Proposition 6. After the televised debate Sally Gearhart and Harvey Milk received an absolutely tumultuous welcome when they arrived at the rally. At that moment, I knew I wasn't alone.

Acting together, Gay people can be one family, acting for the good of all. I hope we NEVER lose the togetherness we have gained.

Herbert S. Levy
San Francisco

GO LIBERTARIAN

* Wayne Friday, in "Politics & People," made some interesting points in his September 28 column. But his endorsement of Jerry Brown doesn't make sense.

Friday begins, "I wrote (in June) that I would support the candidate (for Governor) who spoke out the strongest against the Briggs Initiative." He goes on to describe Jerry Brown's weak support of Gay rights, his reluctant opposition to Prop. 6, and so on.

Brown refuses to speak at anti-Briggs events: he refused to wear a "No on 6" button when one was placed on his lapel, and, according to Friday, he probably would never even have stated his opposition had he not been pressed.

THIS is the most outspoken anti-Briggs candidate?

No, Jerry Brown is not the most outspoken opponent of Briggs and another story in that same issue confirmed this. Ed Clark, the Libertarian candidate, has spoken out against Briggs from the beginning of his campaign. He brings the subject in all his campaign speeches, in San Francisco and in Orange County. He is scheduled to appear at several anti-6 rallies, and he has campaigned in Gay bars. Your own headline in the September 28 issue called him the "Most Outspoken Candidate" against 6.

I hope Gays and supporters of Gay rights will not be fooled by Jerry Brown. He is no supporter of individual rights.

David C. Boaz, Campaign Director
San Francisco

GOP REPLIES TO HARVEY

* In reference to Supervisor Milk's recent column, I admit that Gay Republicans still have quite a way to go, but progress is being made. Our voice is being heard within the Party more and more every day. In less than 2 years, five Gay-Rights Republican Clubs have been formed in California. Concerned Republicans for Individual Rights being the largest with well over 80 members including State Senator Milton Marks, Judge Ollie Marie-Victoire, Supervisors Lee Dolson and John Molinari, John Johnck (chair of R.C.C.C.), and Mike Henderson.

It was Concerned Republicans for Individual Rights who asked for and received strong statements against Prop. 6 from Ronald Reagan, Mike Curb, W. K. Coors and Supervisor Lee Dolson. It was C.R.I.R. who lobbied for and received an endorsement against Prop. 6 from the Republican County Central Committee and the Young Republicans of California and who, on Oct. 15, held a reception with Republican Congressman Pete McCloskey to raise money to defeat Prop. 6.

It is this kind of involvement that will counteract the homophobia within the Republican Party. I ask you, Harvey, could this have been accomplished without the involvement of Gay Republicans and members of C.R.I.R.?

Because a person is a fiscal conservative, it does not necessarily make them anti-Gay. A case in point is the opposition to Prop. 6 by Republicans Reagan, Deukmejian and Curb.

Tom Isenberg, Secretary-Treasurer
Concerned Republicans for Individual Rights

A METASEXUAL EXERCISE

* We Metosexuals believe that there is no part of a person's body which is any more private than any other part. By becoming very, very still it is possible to discover the same being peeking out through every pore in your partner's skin.

Real sex involves turning on, not the body, but this being. The first exercise, therefore, is to bring your partner to climax while touching nothing but his or her feet. (Hint: Trying makes it harder.)

NEXT ISSUE: Shooting past the orgasm.

TELLING CITY TALES

* Proposition 6 is the result of one man's attempt to gain publicity and further his political ambitions. The ruin of one of San Francisco's best homicide inspectors is the result of one man's attempts to gain publicity and further his literary ambitions.

The recent guest appearance of Armistead Maupin at a No on 6 benefit seems to me ironic. His comment that night, the the SFPD now believes that Dave Toschi wrote the last Zodiac letter is directly contradicted by department spokesmen as well as their handwriting experts. How Mr. Maupin could state, "Both Toschi and I avoided the press," when in fact he held a news conference immediately preceding publication of his article on Toschi (in New West magazine) which coincidentally timed very well with publication of his book "Tales of the City" is inexplicable.

I realize that we must do whatever we can to defeat Prop. 6 and that Mr. Maupin wishes to do his part. For our sake I can only hope he is more honest when discussing the facts involved in the Briggs matter than when discussing the facts of the Toschi incident.

Play Safe or Build Alliances?

Guaranteed: A Pro-Gay Public Defender

by Bruce Pettit

Most Gay activists agree that alliance with other minorities is an increasing political urgency. Nevertheless, they divide almost equally on whether to seal such a particular alliance in the Nov. 7 election of a San Francisco public defender.

Gay people have an unprecedented luxury in this two-candidate contest: never before in voting for an office that so acutely affects them have they enjoyed absolute certainty that whoever wins will be pro-Gay.

Both candidates pledge to appoint several up-front Gay deputy defenders.

Jeff Brown is the seven-year insider endorsed by retiring public defender Robert Nicco. Brown is a Richmond-district family man who has been deeply affected in his legal thinking about Gay people by department colleague Gordon Armstrong — a supervising attorney who is an up-front Gay.

Hiram Smith is director of the San Francisco Neighborhood Legal Assistance Foundation (SFLNAF) which provides free legal services to low-income persons. He is the first Black to run for public defender. His supporters include Assemblyman Willie Brown, his former law partner.

Jeff Brown,
public defender candidate.

Another Smith supporter is Black Gay activist Claude Wynne, who praises Smith's defense of Gay people through SFLNAF. Crediting Smith with securing the SFLNAF endorsement against Prop. 6, Wynne adds, "Hiram would be another bridge between the Black and the Gay communities."

The public defender fulfills the constitutional guarantee of court counsel for anyone who cannot afford a private attorney. The local office defends 20,000 cases a year with a staff of 65 attorneys. Gay defendants — as Gays — are typically hustlers, transvestites, public-sex enthusiasts . . . or "obvious" Gays whom police charge with "standing in a doorway."

Since both Brown and Smith come from a civil-rights and anti-war background, there is little ideological difference between them. Thus the election may turn on the question posed by Smith's campaign coordinator, Dorothy Langston: "Can a system in which nearly all jailed defendants are poor and from some racial minority be best represented by someone from a white, middle-class background? Hiram has the expertise and understanding necessary. He is a tremendous lawyer, a sensitive man with a sense of practicality — he knows he can't rid the world of jails tomorrow."

Public defender
candidate Hiram Smith

With everything else equal, Gays might predictably have unified in the Smith candidacy. But Armstrong is the overriding reason that that was no automatic alliance.

Brown cannot legally promise to retain Armstrong, but Armstrong is confident. "For Gay people, the bottom line of Jeff's election," he believes, "is my continued presence in this office." Smith had "no comment" when questioned about Armstrong's abilities.

Brown relates that when he became a deputy defender in 1971 homophobia was rampant. "Gays were discriminated against at the time of arrest, beaten in custody, humiliated, treated in a second-class way by the court staff . . . Gordon Armstrong gave us our first role sensitizing. I went through that sensitizing experience. I now appreciate Gay people's humanity."

The Minutemen Democrats and Teddy Roosevelt Republicans have endorsed Smith. The Alice B. Toklas Democrats and the Concerned Republicans for Individual Rights recommend Brown.

CAMPBELL QUIETLY SENTENCED — 6 Months Suspended, 2 Years Probation

Jack Campbell, one of the giants in the Gay rights movement and a director of the Club Baths chain, was quietly sentenced on September 18 in the Municipal Court of Judge Ollie Marie-Victoire. He received 6 months suspended sentence, 2 years probation, credit for time served after pleading Guilty to "keeping or living in a house of prostitution," section 315 of the State Penal Code.

The activist, former Treasurer of the coalition that fought Anita Bryant in Miami in 1977, was originally charged with a felony charge of "pandering" — soliciting a client for prostitution. Section 315 is a misdemeanor.

Campbell was arrested on July 13 at his Lyon Street home. A plainclothesman, answering an advertisement in Bay Area Reporter (B.A.R.), was admitted into the Campbell residence and it is alleged that the officer was solicited to become a male prostitute.

Police stated that they became aware of the alleged prostitution business from a complaint filed by a Rev. Ray Broshears, controversial Tendrloin personality.

Campbell is one of the most dedicated and respected Gay activists in the country. He has given considerable time and generously of his own money to support the Gay rights movement from its beginnings.

The active businessman was establishing residency in San Francisco when the July 13 incident occurred. He had ridden atop an open convertible in the San Francisco Gay Freedom Day parade in June. B.A.R. was unable to determine Campbell's current residency, although he owns a home in Miami.

Police Seek Help in Gay Murders

Police now suspect a possible link between six murders of alleged Gay males in San Francisco, Marin and San Mateo counties. The murders were committed in the past eight months.

Tom Goodman, last seen at The Balcony, a bar at 2166 Market Street, is one of the victims. Anyone who knew him, who saw him recently or have any details about his lifestyle or friends are to contact the San Mateo County Sheriff's Office, (415) 364-1811, Ext. 4552/4551.

Goodman was last seen at The Balcony on October 5 at 8:00pm. The man was 27, single, 5' 10", 140 lbs. He was the last recorded victim. His body was found in the Tunitas Creek area of San Mateo County.

Anyone who has any information about Goodman or the murders who does not wish to contact the police or sheriff's departments may contact B.A.R. at (415) 861-5019. This newspaper will pass any anonymous tips on to investigating officers.

PUBLIC/PRIVATE SEX ISSUE IN BAR RAID A News Analysis

by George Mendenhall

The 11 arrests on October 19 at the Boot Camp, a bar at 1010 Bryant Street, have brought to the surface the continuing confusion over the difference between private and public sex acts. Allegedly 9 of the patrons at the Boot Camp were involved in sexual activity. The bartender and an owner, George Mogyorossy, were also arrested.

Part of the confusion among those arrested was the difference between what is considered public and private sex acts.

Police Vice Squad director George Emiel recently refused to investigate a private club where memberships are paid when alleged sexual activity was charged. His conclusion was that under the current state consensual sex act "private" means that which occurs behind locked doors.

Asst. District Attorney Daniel Weinstein contends that "private" also means the premises of a steam bath, even if it is not a private club. He told B.A.R. that his department dismissed charges against patrons at Jack's Baths some months ago because it is "reasonable to assume" that privacy is involved when one pays admission at a steam bath and is placed behind locked doors.

Public sex is not behind closed doors and is in an area readily accessible to the public, as in a park or a bar.

Police Chief Charles Gain, a long-time friend of the Gay community, became aware of alleged sex acts in public bars and sent the following warning to three South of Market Gay bars one month ago:

It has come to the attention of this department that acts of oral copulation, sodomy and other sexual activity is taking place on your premises in violation of Section 647(a) of the Penal Code which provides that it is a misdemeanor to engage in lewd or dissolute conduct in any public place or any place open to the public or exposed to public view.

This is to inform you that members of this department will make visits to your premises and that any violations noted by our officers will result in positive police action, as well as reporting the matter to the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

Mogyorossy claims that he never received this letter, according to Atty. Matt Cole, Michael O'Toole, Personal Aide to Chief Gain, told B.A.R. that he knows "for a fact" that the letter was mailed to the management of the Boot Camp when the two other letters were sent to South of Market bars which allegedly allowed public sex on the premises. After the letters were received at the other two bars, B.A.R. observed that there was no sexual activity in these establishments.

Rumors had persisted for some time in the Gay community that a local television station was contemplating a story on alleged sex in some Gay bars. KGO-TV, Channel 7, did have a recent filmed segment about Ringold Alley, near Folsom Street, where it appeared that some sex activity had taken place. Some Gay leaders feared further media exposure.

Knowing that public sex activity is a minor activity in the Gay community but recognizing how damaging an "expose" would be in the light of the debate over Proposition 6, B.A.R. owner Bob Ross recently made these comments on the editorial page of this newspaper:

The Gay community has been warned by both the police and the District Attorney's office to clean up our act or they will clean it up for us. Acting upon numerous citizens' complaints, these departments are appealing to the good sense of our community to help stop this problem . . . The Briggs/Bryant forces will have a field day, rubbing our noses in our own indiscretions . . . Remember, if we don't get our own act together on this, they will put a stop to it for us, and it will become ugly, expensive and embarrassing.

The charges against those arrested at the Boot Camp have been reduced by the District Attorney. Further disposition of the cases will be determined in a Pre-Trial Conference in Dept. 10, Municipal Court, on November 21 at 9:00am.

Boston Official Blasts Prop. 6

"I oppose school boards investigating the personal lives of teachers and employees who are Gay, or who support Gay rights," Boston City Council President Lawrence S. DiCara has informed B.A.R.

"Although the issue is currently on the ballot in California I think that public officials around the country must let it be known that we will not accept this sort of abridgement of individual liberties," DiCara stressed.

The official pledged his continued support of Gay rights and expressed his belief "that Gay people, just like everyone else, can and do make productive contributions to society." DiCara concluded, "Proposition 6 is but another hurdle to be overcome on our way to creating a society based on true liberty and cooperation."

RENT CONTROL HAS BEEN A FAILURE EVERYWHERE IT'S BEEN TRIED. IT LEADS TO DETERIORATION OF NEIGHBORHOODS. IT DISCOURAGES AND MAKES ECONOMICALLY UNFEASIBLE RESTORATION AND RENOVATION OF HISTORICALLY VALUABLE BUILDINGS. IT INCREASES BUREAUCRATIC RED TAPE FOR PROPERTY OWNERS AND RENTERS. HARVEY L. GOULD is a San Franciscan, a practicing attorney and a young man who has had extensive experience solving complex problems during his service on numerous community boards and agencies. As an elected Board member some of his specific goals would include: Commencement of rigorous post Proposition 13 budget allocating; Establishment of district forums for community input on priority issues; Avoiding the phase out of whole portions of the present curriculum; Continued support of a tuition free institution — primarily for San Francisco residents; Assurance that no grade level entry requirements are imposed; Keeping the District open to all who want to attend.

port against Prop. 6, if for nothing else.

THE STATE ISSUES: 1. NO; 2. NO; 3. YES; 4. YES; 5. NO; 6. NO; 7. NO; 8. YES.

LT. GOVERNOR: If any candidate deserves credit for "earning" the Gay vote, Merv Dymally does. His historic flight to cast the decisive vote for Gays on the Willie Brown bill alone justifies our total support. Added to that is the fact that Dymally took the stand for us in the Briggs battle long before anyone else. Added to his definitive Gay rights speech last January 9. Also added, his strong campaigning for us all over the state. Dymally has set the standards that others try to reach in the battle for Gay rights. He may not be the person some want on other issues, but on the most important issue of Gay rights there is no one better. He has more than earned our vote.

SECRETARY OF STATE: Eu — without question.

ATTORNEY GENERAL: Burke — she has the sensitivity needed and a voting record on our side in every issue . . . something we cannot say about her opponent.

ROSE BIRD: Yes, Yes, Yes!

BART BOARD: Ussery.

ASSESSOR: Moncur. The only one in this race who understood the importance and the need to get a Gay on the Board and as good as any of the others on the issues, if not a lot better.

BOARD OF EDUCATION: Anaya, Johnson and Kopf — by far the best and all strong on the Gay issues.

COMMUNITY COLLEGE
BOARD: Sing, Riordan and Newkirk — again, strong on the Gay issues.

ASSEMBLY: The incumbents . . . Brown, Agnos, McCarthy — their fights against Prop. 6 alone earn our vote.

CONGRESS: The Burtons — again, a case of strong sup-amendment and was sad to see the only other support at compromise was Dan White. I think on many cases where it comes to long-standing obligations a compromise is the best way, but White and I were alone on this.

No matter whom you vote for and no matter which issue you vote on, I urge you to read the long voters handbook. There can be no excuse for uninformed voting. That does not mean your vote is "right" or "wrong" but that at least you gave some strong thought before you cast your vote. The vote you cast will affect your life to greater or lesser degrees. Prop. 6 and Prop. X to greater degrees. Prop. V may seem to lesser degree but could turn out to be a vote that will grow and grow. No one knows, and that is why it is important to vote.

Reagan Refutes Briggs: 'I Am Opposed to 6'

Senator John Briggs continues to repeat that former Governor Ronald Reagan's NO ON 6 statement is a fabrication by his staff. The lie by Briggs was refuted by Reagan during a recent Riverside, California, press conference.

The original statement by Reagan, run exclusively in B.A.R., was released by his Citizens for a Republic group. Reagan never retracted the statement, nor did he react when the Los Angeles Times praised him editorially for his position.

The presidential candidate told a Riverside press conference that Briggs was wrong, that he did openly and vigorously oppose 6.

Radio station KSWB-Los Angeles recorded the recent Reagan session and told B.A.R. that Reagan said, "I am opposed to Proposition 6. We have enough laws about the heterosexual and homosexual conduct of teachers. The passage of this proposition would lead to a witchhunt."

Briggs emphasized during his unsuccessful Primary race to become governor that Reagan was his idol.

The Political Animal, California's "in" publication which analyzes state politics, reports, "Reagan's tilt against Prop. 6 could neutralize the issues and, in a close race, might be a determining factor if intelligently handled by the opposition. The central core of YES ON 6 comes from conservative, and generally pro-Reagan, elements."

Concerned Voters of California (CVC) is launching the major professional statewide campaign against 6. It is in need of funds to place additional television and newspaper advertisements: Concerned Voters, 54 Mint Street, San Francisco 94102, (415) 777-0100.

The November 7 Election

Wayne Friday

We have a good chance to beat the Briggs/Bryant bigots if every one of us can convince just one person who might not take the time to make that extra effort to vote. Every vote counts — so very much. Many years ago, Lyndon Johnson was elected to the U.S. Senate from Texas by a mere 64 votes — an election in which more than four million votes were cast. Cleveland Mayor Kucinich recently survived a recall by a mere 236 votes out of 125,000 cast; a switch of just 10,000 votes in Ohio and Hawaii, among more than 80 million cast across the country in 1976 would have defeated Carter and elected Jerry Ford. A one-vote plurality to defeat Briggs is as good as a plurality of a hundred thousand — and it may well be just that close.

Seldom do I ever make a pitch for money — for any cause — but money is needed so badly now. Can you spare just one dollar — or possibly five? Mail at least one dollar to San Franciscans Against Prop. 6, 2275 Market St., San Francisco 94114. This group will be doing the biggest get-out-the-vote on election day and they need money. Proposition 6 can be beaten; the polls, for the first time, say we have a chance. If The Bigot Briggs wins this one, he will not stop with the teachers. Evidence exists that he plans to go after Gay doctors next, and then who knows where.

The race for Governor looks like a runaway for Jerry Brown; I wish we had another choice, but we don't, and Brown clearly surpasses Younger, who reminds me more and more of Richard Nixon every day. Only as late as last Sunday on the national MEET THE PRESS, Younger waffled all over the place on Prop. 6, while Brown bitterly attacked the initiative. Younger says homosexuals are unfit to be police officers; I say Younger is unfit to be Governor.

The fight for Lt. Governor is a toss-up with the Republican Mike Curb thought to have a slight edge. There are a number of things about incumbent Merv Dymally that I don't especially care for, but he has a perfect record on human rights, and his continued support of our cause alone entitles him to our support.

Secretary of State March Fong Eu, in her first term, faced a number of hard decisions that called for quick thinking, legal savvy and a large measure of diplomacy, which she mustered in all cases. March Fong was instrumental in implementing voter registration by mail, thereby broadening the basic right to vote to shut-ins and others. The Secretary of State has spoken out clearly in favor of equal rights for Gays and has often voiced her opposition to Prop. 6. She deserves another term.

Yvonne Burke, a Congresswoman and former state legislator, has had a distinguished public career and would, in my opinion, make an excellent Attorney General. Frankly, I doubt that she can defeat Republican George Deukmejian, a conservative State Senator who surprised even his own party when he came out strongly against Prop. 6, but she has my vote (don't take any bets on this one).

The two Democrat statewide office-holders I hope are beaten are the incumbent State Treasurer, Jesse Unruh, and the State Controller, Ken Cory. Neither have records of public service you would want to brag about; but, unfortunately, neither have strong opponents either. Unruh typifies backroom politics better than anyone I know of, and Cory was never qualified to hold his job in the first place. Unruh's opponent is Donald French, who, at 31, is the youngest of any statewide contender; he is also the Republicans' only Black statewide candidate, and I hope he wins. The conventional political wisdom is that Controller Ken Cory is the luckiest man in this election. Cory was considered vulnerable by Republicans because of Cory's business partners, and one of his largest financial backers was sent to prison in a hospital scandal. So the GOP fielded a candidate, Assemblyman Dixon Arnett of Redwood City, in the primary, who the Party thought would be up to the task of beating Cory. Republican voters saw it differently, though, and nominated the little-known James Ware, who now faces an uphill fight to knock off Cory. I hope he (Ware) wins and I urge a vote for him.

The remaining race that deserves our close attention is whether or not we confirm Rose Bird as Justice of the State Supreme Court. The right-wing attack on Rose Bird goes far beyond a campaign of slander and vilification directed against a Chief Justice who has demonstrated her competence as both judge and administrator. It is an attack on the constitutional independence of the Supreme Court itself. Bird has expressed her philosophy this way: "As judges we must follow the law and do what it requires." Now she is being viciously attacked for not following what her critics think the law should be, for refusing steadfastly to substitute her judgment for that of the lawmakers. A national political writer put it this way recently: "If they get Rose Bird, then a thousand judges will some day have to choose between the law and the roar of the people." Rose Bird is one of Jerry Brown's better appointments; and if, by some chance, the Bigot Briggs should get his initiative passed and it ends up in the courts, I, for one, want Rose Bird sitting on the State Supreme Court.

Take them or leave them, but here are my remaining choices on the November 7 election:

U.S. Representative: (5th C.D.) John Burton; (6th C.D.) Phil Burton

State Senate, 6th District: John Foran

Assembly: Art Agnos (16th Dist.); Willie Brown or Mike Henderson (17th Dist.); Leo McCarthy (18th Dist.)

Board of Education: Julie Johnson, Rosario Anaya, Myra Kopf

Community College Board: Lillian Sing and John Riordan

BART Board: Wil Ussery

Public Defender: Jeff Brown

City Assessor: Amy S. O'Brien

Charter Commission: Frank Fitch, Tom Isenberg, Wilson Chang, Duke Armstrong, Tom Specht

Statewide Propositions: 1. Yes 2. No 3. No 4. Yes 5. No 6. No 7. No 8. Yes

Arson Task Force Expands After Bath, Freedom House Fires

A local Gay half-way house for former convicts, Freedom House, has been destroyed by arson. This incident and several other arson-related fires, including the burning of the Ellis Street "San Francisco Baths," has resulted in an acceleration of the Arson Task Force under Fire Chief Andy Casper.

Casper, whose Gay Advisory Board on fire prevention is attempting to bring Gay businesses up to fire code, reports that the force is now attempting to identify trends in arson cases. This includes an investigation of increased arson attempts in the Noe Valley area.

Freedom House was established by Rev. Bob Humphries. It accepted former Gay convicts as they were released from prison for counseling and job placement. The belongings of occupants were destroyed in the blaze, one of many that had been set at the House in the past. The homeless residents have been placed temporarily in crash-pad arrangements. Ron Rose was the Freedom House director who is currently without telephone due to the fire and could not be reached by B.A.R.

LOS ANGELES — The suit involving the strike and firing of employees at the Gay Services Center here in 1975 has been settled.

The out-of-court agreement brought back pay and a small reparation for 17 employees (9 women, 8 men) who had lost their positions. In addition, the personnel policies of the center have been revised.

"The workers fired in May, 1975, were terminated in a manner inconsistent with personnel policies then in effect," the Board of the Center admitted in a public statement.

The Board also stated that there was a breakdown in communication between strikers and the Board in 1975 and that "further attempts should have been made at reaching a peaceful resolution" although at the time there was "legitimate concern over the activities of the workers whose employment was terminated."

COSTANZA TALKS TO B.A.R.
ABOUT 6

Midge Costanza, President Carter's former assistant for public liaison, talked with B.A.R.'s Bruce Pettit this week while in San Francisco for a NO ON 6 fundraiser. Her full analysis of the Gay liberation movement will appear later in B.A.R. We are publishing here her immediate thoughts about the Proposition 6 campaign:

CARTER & GAY RIGHTS

President Carter is quoted in YES ON 6 literature as saying, "For us to engage in homosexual activities, for us to steal, for us to lie — all these are sins." I have never seen this quote.

Jimmy Carter does not support discrimination — whether based on color, age or sexual preference. He did say that on a TOMORROW show interview. Then there's the Fathers' Day interview he gave to the Associated Press in June of 1977 in which he said he had known close and dear friends who had been taught by homosexual teachers and those friends had not been affected by this. But at the same time I believe Jimmy Carter probably does feel it's a sin to be a homosexual. But it doesn't mean that because he feels it's a sin that the homosexual should be discriminated against...

HETERO FEARS

There is still a degree of fear that Gay people recruit and molest children. Changing that attitude is an educational process that has to take place all the time — it should not start around an issue like Proposition 6. Gay people could appear on public talk shows, at church groups and civic groups, to explain that something like the Texas homosexual murder ring is as abhorrent to a Gay person as it is to anyone. Some mind out there is sick — I mean sick. It doesn't have to be a homosexual mind vs. a heterosexual mind. I guess what I'm saying here is that Gay people have to pay an extra price. So in making the suggestion I apologize for it at the same time.

I resent the need for Gay people to have to speak out on some atrocity connected to homosexuality when we don't require heterosexuals to speak out on heterosexual crimes. You don't read in any newspaper, "Today heterosexual Joe Smith committed a crime;" but you do read, "Today homosexual Joe Smith committed a crime." I resent that...

EFFECTS OF 6 VOTE

The attitude of people toward Gay rights probably won't be affected at all, unfortunately, whether Prop. 6 wins or loses. What it will have is a direct effect on them themselves. People who are not Gay have to understand that if Prop. 6 passes it is the beginning of a long list of challenges that will be made to the human rights of all people in this country — with absolutely no distinction made on whether you're Gay or straight. If Prop. 6 does not pass, it will mean that you in California have successfully protected not only the rights of Gay teachers. You have also protected the rights of all the people in this nation who are Black, Hispanic, Catholic, Jew.

APATHY vs. POWER

It is typical that there is apathy within the campaigns, such as NO ON 6, but it is not acceptable. There is a certain level of investment you've got to make for your own well-being. As long as you act like an oppressed group, you're going to be treated like an oppressed group. You asked me what would help the non-Gay community change their attitudes about Gay people? Power. Kick up your heels once in a while and use that vehicle of power that you've got. It's called the vote.

When you become powerful enough to make the difference on whether or not a politician gets elected, oh how the attitudes change and the sensitivity seems somehow to seep out from the cracks where it was never visible before.

I believe Proposition 6 can be defeated. But it mustn't be in spite of Gay effort. It's got to be because of it.

When pressed on last Sunday's MEET THE PRESS program, Evelle Younger said he would "probably" vote against Prop. 6 — Jerry Brown, meanwhile, attacked the Briggs scheme as being a "vicious witchhunt" . . . Bob St. Clair, who ran for Supervisor in District 5 last year, in trouble with the Fair Political Practices Commission for allegedly failing to report some $2,700 in campaign donations . . . the owner of the Neon Chicken restaurant on 18th St. refuses to let his employees wear NO ON 6 buttons; even some of the employees at the bank I go to feel free to wear them . . . actor Gregory Peck's 29-year-old son Carey expected to win a congressional seat from Southern California's 27th District . . . the Concerned Republicans for Individual Rights (CRIR) raised $2,000 to fight Briggs at a reception for Pete McCloskey — McCloskey, incidentally, being touted by some Republicans as a candidate for U.S. Senate against Cranston if he wins his re-election big, as expected . . . no doubt in my mind that Senator Milton Marks WILL run for Mayor next year — Milton has a lot of friends in this town . . . Mike Henderson's supporters are encouraged by the fact that Willie Brown is campaigning hard to keep his Assembly seat (think Willie is a little concerned, Mike?) . . . Senator John Foran raised over $20,000 for his primary campaign (and he didn't even have an opponent) — nearly all of it coming from "special interests" . . . the fund-raiser for Art Agnos at the Galleria Wednesday night a big success . . . George Deukmejian expected to defeat Yvonne Burke . . . The Bigot Briggs accusing Governor Brown of "pandering to homos" . . . Howard Jarvis attacking Mayor Moscone by saying San Franciscans "couldn't do any worse" than Moscone . . . Gays in Seattle battling for their rights there in the Nov. 7 election (Prop. 13 is the anti-Gay initiative there) . . . the largest individual contribution here to fight Briggs came from the owner of the N'Touch disco bar . . . GAY POLITICAL CLUBS SPLIT ON RACES

by Bruce Pettit

The two-year-old San Francisco Gay Democratic Club — formed to demand total openness and reject compromise on Gay issues from office-seekers — has reluctantly endorsed Gov. Jerry Brown for Nov. 7 re-election. Republican nominee Evelle Younger's stand against Gay police made the difference.

"On Gay issues Brown does not deserve our support," said S.F. Gay president Harry Britt. "But the feeling in the club was that Younger would be a disaster for Gay people particularly and all California generally."

However, the four-year-old Minutemen Democratic Club remained unmoved from its non-endorsement taken before the primary election. Often considered the most conservative of the three local Gay Democratic clubs, Minutemen has also exercised the no-compromise posture — through president Elmer Wilhelm, an Art Agnos appointee to the Democratic State Central Committee.

Minutemen believes the Governor, in his campaign, has not been as outspoken as he pledged he would be to a May meeting with Gay leaders.

Only the seven-year-old Alice B. Toklas Democratic sometimes called the "other" Briggs Initiative.

The five groups split several ways on the San Francisco public defender's race. S.F. Gay gave a dual endorsement to Jeff Brown and Hiram Smith. Minutemen and Roosevelt back Smith. CRIR and Toklas support Brown.

Amy O'Brien has support for assessor from Toklas and S.F. Gay. Eric Moncur is the Minutemen candidate and Sam Duca has Roosevelt's backing.

For the BART Board, Wilfred Ussery has endorsement in District 7 from Minutemen, S.F. Gay and Roosevelt. Eugene Garfinkle has a District 8 endorsement from CRIR.

Toklas, CRIR and S.F. Gay support Proposition W, the policy statement for curtailment of marijuana arrests. But CRIR dissents from S.F. Gay and Toklas' support of Prop. U (renters' rebate) and Prop. V (jobs with peace).

EXCLUSIVE

"We Will Win It" Seattle Reports

Jill Schropp, Campaign Manager of NO ON 13 in Seattle, has told B.A.R., "It looks like we will win in our fight to defeat the repeal of the housing and employment ordinances. Everyone seems to be for us — the Mayor, the City Council, the Council of Churches, the newspapers."

Roosevelt defied its party and endorsed for re-election Assemblyman Art Agnos — perhaps the nation's most persistent pro-Gay politician.

In the attorney general race, the five clubs accepted their respective parties' nominees — Democrat Yvonne Burke and Republican George Deukmejian.

In non-partisan contests, all five Gay clubs agreed only in opposition to Proposition 6. All except S.F. Gay (which took no position) oppose the smoking limitations of Proposition 5.

Four of the five groups support retention (YES) of Chief Justice Rose Bird and oppose Proposition 7, the expanded death penalty. CRIR dissented from those views. CRIR urges NO on Bird because of what president Don James calls a general discontent with Gov. Brown's appointments. CRIR also startled many in the Gay community with an endorsement (YES) of Prop. 7 —

Schropp heads "Citizens to Retain Fair Employment" which is spearheading the NO ON 13 effort. She told B.A.R. that recent polls indicate a favorable NO vote on November 7. A poll commissioned in early July by CFRE indicated a 66% NO vote, while a more conservative Seattle Times poll (late September) indicated 47% NO, 30% YES, 23% UNDECIDED.

Prop. 13 would omit the words "sexual orientation" from current laws (adopted in 1973) protecting employment and housing rights. It is a city, not a state, law and does NOT affect teachers. Teachers are under state law in Washington.

CFRE has raised $82,000 with almost all of it being spent on a media campaign. The theme is basically the same as the Concerned Voters of California theme here — the threat is to personal privacy.

running in Seattle for NO ON 13 . . . one depicts a husband, wife, two children, seated around a dinner table. All the viewer hears is the silverware and the passing of dinner bowls. Around the table pressed against the four walls are many people who are staring at the diners. A voice comes forth which says, "In America one of our most sacred rights is the right to privacy. Would YOU want to live like this? Vote NO on 13."

Schropp indicated that the YES ON 13 campaign, Save Our Moral Ethics (SOME), still has no organized campaign that is apparent to the public. She said SOME is not running newspaper advertisement or advertising on TV and radio or even doing precinct walking. (The NO ON 13 group is doing all of these things.) Schropp said that the SOME people seem to change frequently "and they are even turning down most speaking engagements and refusing to debate with us."

The two major events to climax the Seattle "NO" effort will be on Sunday, Nov. 5, when the Council of Churches is having a mammoth Prayer-In and Rally in a downtown park. Thousands are expected to attend . . . On election night the campaign will have a rally at a large downtown arena, Eagles Auditorium.

State Court Rules for Lesbian Child Custody

SEATTLE — "We won it all," called out Rossell Pekelis after the Washington Supreme Court ruled favorably in a child custody suit involving two Lesbians, Sandra Schuster and Madeleine Isaacson. The excited Pekelis, the attorney for the two women, reported, "They're very happy to have gotten a decision. They've waited a long time."

Six children, ages 8 to 5, were involved in the high court ruling. The Lesbian couple had raised their children as a single family after divorcing their husbands in 1972. The fathers, who remarried, sought to regain custody of the children in 1972, and the matter has been in the courts since then.

Six of nine justices upheld

Sandra Schuster & Madeleine Isaacson victorious in Lesbian custody case.

the 1974 judgment by Superior Court Judge Norman Ackley which awarded custody of the children to the mothers. Whether the women could live together while raising their children was not decided by the court in a split-decision, but the indecision appears to permit the present living-together situation to continue.

Schuster and Isaacson have made television appearances and granted interviews since 1972, speaking out in favor of their lifestyle and their right to maintain custody of their children. A film about their unique family has been shown in San Francisco and elsewhere to pay legal fees.

Teachers Reject Younger on '6' Issue

The 57,000 member California Teachers Association has heard gubernatorial candidate Evelle Younger and decided not to endorse either candidate for governor.

The San Francisco Chronicle reported that Younger "alienated the CTA members with his circumspect position on Prop. 6, which CTA and Brown (Governor Jerry Brown) oppose . . . CTA leaders said

Supreme Court Justice Robert Brachtenbach, who wrote the majority ruling, emphasized that although the women continue to live together with their children in open defiance of their original divorce decree and were guilty of contempt of court, there was no evidence that the children were harmed. He said the children should not be punished for the actions of their mothers.

In a dissenting opinion, Justice High Rosellini joined with the Chief Justice, Charles Wright, in stating that custody should have been awarded to the fathers. They said that per-that Younger gave them the impression in private conversations that he opposed Prop. 6 and viewed it as unconstitutional."

Younger officially states that he is "neutral" on Prop. 6. He views it as constitutional but "unnecessary" because it repeats existing law.

The teachers groups also endorsed Lt. Gov. Mervyn Dymally and Congresswoman Yvonne Burke for Attorney General. It also urged confirmation of all four state Supreme Court justices on the ballot.

Bitter Thoughts Following Yet Another "Function"

by Johnie Staggs and Kent Olson

For well over a year now, fighting the Briggs Initiative has been a top priority for some of us. We have attended endless meetings and workshops and conferences. We have survived (and sometimes participated in) the bitching, bad-mouthing, and backbiting that stems from the diversity and occasional competitiveness of the Gay "community." Through a morass of shifting alliances, power struggles, and organizational disintegrations, we have continued to work whenever we could for Gay visibility, human rights, and an end to institutionalized bigotry.

But looking over this past year without the innocence of belief — belief that each and every one of us wants to be free, belief that each and every one of us will fight for our rights — we're angry. We're angry that there are only a few — and we mean FEW — who are willing to lay it on the line day after day for the rights of each and every one in this "community." We are angry that each and every day, these FEW work until they are sick, then beg and borrow so that the battle can go on.

Meanwhile, major events continue to be held in this "community" to raise funds for charitable organizations such as Guide Dogs for the Blind, Muscular Dystrophy, Cystic Fibrosis, ad nauseum. Do we really think we are going to be able to buy respectability through charity? When are we truly going to start taking care of our own people and their problems?

A few days ago, we attended one of the major "functions" and overheard someone ask facetiously, "Why don't they have a fundraiser for the VD clinic?" Indeed, why don't they? The reason is obvious: VD clinics don't buy respectability.

We and the rest of the FEW can't quit. Even though we know that you who won't give a dime/work an hour at a shopping center/make telephone calls/demonstrate/stuff envelopes/or just show up for body count are going to benefit from our work and you don't deserve it — we won't/can't quit. For us and those who work with us and for others all across the state, freedom is our only goal. We eat, sleep, and breathe the dream of freedom — and you can't buy it from charitable organizations.

If we fail, our final word to you is this: Hiding behind your non-profit status, being militantly non-political, will not exempt you from the forthcoming political actions!!!
